Insurance/Eggstravaganza

Alan is checking on an insurance quote for the Association – quote went up $1000 from last year. Given that we don't own a building or meeting space, our general liability only needs to cover Eggstravaganza and Halloween. Keith holds a separate rider for inflatables for Halloween – Alan wants to make sure our quote is for no inflatables, which hopefully reduces it. Jonathan noted that the FCPS website says we're up to date through 2/8/27. Pamela confirmed our reservation with Laurel Ridge – we're confirmed for 3/22. Helen will connect with the Scouts to handle the egg hunt organization, and Pamela will confirm start and end time with Cathy's team.

Other business:

We had a possible candidate for membership chair, and Pamela, Tim, and Nick (previous membership chair) all talked with him – Pamela will reach out to see if he's still interested.

We got an email from Braddock Nights asking us to sponsor them for $1000. Alan noted that we have $335 donated from membership specifically earmarked for Braddock Nights. We agreed to round that up to $350 and send that as the KPWCA donation.

Alan noted that he's been able to get caught up on our tax returns. Our previous CPA ghosted him, but after talking with another firm, he discovered that he was able to complete tax returns online himself. He thanked Rose for her help.
